IN JUSTICE'S COURT.—Yesterday, in the Justice's Court, Isaac Hinzman was called up to answer the charge of disturbing the peace. He was arrested two or three weeks ago and put under bond to appear. From day to day he appeared like a man who wished to atone to the offended law in good faith; but as often the case had to be continued for the reason that it was not represented on the side of the prosecution. At last the Justice felt it to be his duty, both to the accused and the public—as the county must foot the bill of these continuances—to enter an order of dismissal. The State vs. John Galvin is a case which ran the same course and came to the same termination—dismissed for want of prosecution. The District Attorney should appoint a competent deputy to attend to his business in the Justice's Court, or attend to it himself.

WITHOUT FOUNDATION.—A report was generally circulated yesterday that the Raymond & Ely Company had resolved to suspend operations, owing to their dumps all being full, and the Superintendent being unable to get teams to haul away ore, thus temporarily throwing 400 miners out of employment. As soon as we heard of the report we repaired to the office of Capt. Day, to ascertain if it were true; and it gratifies us to be able to say that this important company will not, under any circumstances, fully suspend operations for a single day. But the dumps are certainly filled with ore to their utmost capacity, hauling facilities are inadequate, and much embarrassment in hoisting ore is apprehended. However, operations under ground will be but slightly curtailed, even if it should be necessary temporarily to stop hoisting.

DRAWING A BOWIE-KNIFE.—Night before last, in a place of public resort in the city, as we get the particulars from an eye-witness, two men got into an altercation over a game of cards, when one of them, seizing the other so he could not resist, drew a bowie-knife, aimed the point of it at his heart, and holding it there several seconds, made the threatened man accede to some demand concerning the game before sheathing it. This bold attempt at murder was made in the presence of a large number, and in the very center of the city; yet no arrest was made or attempted. Whether are we drifting? We fear a popular uprising will give a fearful answer, ere long, if more vigilance and vigor are not soon manifested in the execution of the laws.

STATE VS. WM. McCRADY, ALIAS SAGACITY.—"Sagacity" knew the snow-storms were coming, and showed his sagaciousness by appropriating two pairs of blankets belonging to a miner. His sagacity was at fault, however, in committing such a theft when there was a standing reward of $100 for the arrest and conviction of each one of the larcenous class of which he is so distinguished an ornament. He was "shaded" with the property in his possession, and is now in jail awaiting his trial, which will take place to-day. The blankets are in the office of Justice Stoutenburgh, having been fully identified by the owner. Officer Corwin arrested "Sagacity."

SECURE YOUR RIGHTS TO TIMBER LANDS.—Many are claiming unsurveyed tracts of timber land and cutting firewood thereon, who are ignorant of the legal steps necessary to be taken to secure their rights, and without taking which they are liable to prosecution, under a general law of Congress. Parties wishing information on this subject will receive it by calling on H. M. Maguire, at the Racoon office, or Eugene Schoppmann, County Surveyor.

ACQUITTED.—In the case of the State vs. Wayland, tried yesterday in the District Court, on the charge of exhibiting a deadly weapon in a threatening and disorderly manner, the jury brought in a verdict of not guilty.

MINERS' UNIONS.

We have examined the constitution and by-laws which, two or three weeks ago, were proposed as the basis of a Miners' Union in Pioche. Much good certainly would result to all immediately interested, and injury to none, by organizing on such principles as are therein enunciated. They are wise in conception, liberal in spirit, and nobly fraternal and humanitarian in tendency. The influence of an association of men governed by such a code would certainly be salutary. No good citizens would be found in opposition, for none having at heart the general welfare could consistently assume an attitude of hostility. The moral as well as material amelioration of the members being the chief objects of the organization—ends which it is proposed to reach by making industry and sobriety and honesty the basis of eligibility, and affording relief to members in sickness and distress—it certainly would wield, if conducted faithfully to the letter and spirit of the chart, a powerful and beneficial influence on society at large. Volumes have been written in regard to the opposing interests of labor and capital; the ablest economists of Europe and America have racked their brains in trying to elucidate the relationship between the two; and with all the light that has been thrown on the subject, pro and con, one proposition stands uncontroverted and incontrovertible, viz.: the more intelligent and reliable the labor, the surer and more profitable the returns to the employing capital. Hence, we consider the existence of labor organizations, which are conducted on the liberal and intelligent general proposition of a mutual interest of interests, as great public benefits. But they must be conducted conservatively and true to the original principles of their organization—mutuality of interest being the foundation. The higher the character of the labor the safer the investment, is the fixed principle; and thus viewed, the employer is benefited as well as the employed by such a union of interests. This is the only defensible position that can be taken in advocating labor organizations; and from that standpoint we hope a Pioche Miners' Union will be organized, and, if organized, we shall give it every reasonable encouragement.

THEATRE.—There is a capital bill out for to-night. The comedy of the "Little Treasure" will be again produced, in response to the request of many patrons. Walter Maidenblush is a character exactly suited to Mr. Maguire; while the part of Gertrude is naturally adapted to Miss Maggie Knight. The after-piece will be "Perfection." This will be the only performance this week, and we hope the manager will be greeted with a good house. The company will appear in Bullionville Thursday evening; and on next Monday evening the long-looked-for Mr. and Mrs. Bates will make their first appearance, as is announced in another column.

FOOT-BALL.—Several hundred men were engaged the greater part of yesterday, at the intersection of Main and Meadow Valley streets, playing foot-ball. In the heat and excitement of the game they sealed contiguous porch and house roofs and disregarded the heavy snow storm which prevailed. We regret to say many were less healthy and pleasantly engaged. Far better to devote spare hours thus than in lounging around saloons and card tables.

FURTHER SNOW-FALL.—Yesterday, about 2 o'clock, snow again commenced falling, and continued without intermission for several hours. "The oldest inhabitant" can't remember anything like it—so he tells us; and we judge it is something new to the nomadic Shoshones and Putes, as they crouched around for shelter, looking as despondently as if they thought universal annihilation was at hand. The snow must have an average depth of a foot this morning.

MAKE SPECIFIC CHARGES.—Our attention has been directed to the fact that it is not unusual for certain officers to arrest parties guilty of minor offenses, confine them in jail over night, and then let them go without entering complaint. We do not, of personal knowledge, know that these charges are true. Make direct, specific charges, and we shall "hew to the line, let the chips fall where they may."

THE FRANKS ON THE RAMPAGE.—Frank Milovich was yesterday arrested on the charge of threatening to commit murder. Held to answer under a thousand dollar bond. And then came Frank Radich and Frank Tushik to answer the charge of assault and battery. They will appear this morning at 10 o'clock. Officer Boyd made these three arrests. The accused are foreigners.

MORE SLEIGH RIDING.—Another sleigh was yesterday improvised—bars of iron for runners with a rock-a-way for the body—and with four horses attached, gaily caparisoned and well provided with bells, it presented a very creditable appearance. It is unnecessary to say it was, and will be as long as the snow lasts, in constant motion.

WE GIVE IT UP.—Why, we were asked, yesterday, can we not have as full and complete protection to life and property as they have in the interior towns of New York, our criminal code being modelled from that of the Empire State? We give it up; but probably those having in hand the administration of the laws can answer.

AN ENNON.—The New York Bakery is a few doors east of the postoffice. We erroneously had it in our last east of the Court-house. It opened with as many customers as could well be accommodated. The proprietor is already arranging to extend the culinary department.

Mrs. Lovell finding it impossible to dispose of the tickets for her raffle as soon as expected, it has been unavoidably postponed for a few days—the snow storms preventing the ladies from canvassing for the sale of tickets. The raffle will take place soon.

DUE TO-LAY from Hamilton: Mary Irwin, J. McLaughlin, John Featherston and Jas. Millar.

SILVER FROM CRESCENT CITY.—We last evening had the pleasure of meeting Mr. J. A. Bidwell, from Crescent City, Superintendent of the Crescent mill at that place. He brought in for shipment 2,400 ounces of bullion. This is the first silver received from Pahrangat District for about two years. It was produced from ore from the List and Balbach ledges—about an equal quantity from each. The Crescent is now in constant operation, and there is considerable ore on the ground from these two ledges. Work is prosecuted with full forces in both, large quantities of ore being hoisted, and it is reasonable to suppose the future bullion shipments from Pahrangat will make an important item in the silver exportation of Southeastern Nevada.

ACCORDING to a private dispatch received here last night, Mr. and Mrs. Bates left Salt Lake City for Pioche yesterday morning. They are most favorably considered by the dramatic critics of the Pacific coast, throughout which they seem to be especial favorites. We have no doubt their talent will be appreciated here—they will certainly be liberally patronized. True merit never goes begging for support in the Far West, and it is as well understood, too, as in the centres of refinement in the East. It is to be regretted that we have no better theatre building in which to receive these distinguished performers.

APPREHENSION FELT.—Apprehension is felt for the fate of prospectors known to be out in the snow storms. Not expecting such severe weather, and, of course, carrying as little dead weight as possible, it is thought they are but scantily supplied with clothing and blankets. There must be several hundred out.

Mrs. H. E. Bail announces this morning in our advertising columns that she has opened a first-class restaurant on lower Main street. Mrs. Bail formerly made a great success in Boise City, Idaho, in the restaurant business, and will undoubtedly do well here.

GEORGE C. JOHNSON informs us that in order to supply his customers with water through the epizootic visitation, he is willing to pay the Floral Spring Company three cents a gallon at their hydrants—that he has made the Superintendent that offer.

THE woman on Lacour street who attempted to commit suicide says she has no thanks for those who interfered to save her, and that she will yet destroy herself. Is there not a probability of insanity?

POSTMASTER BARNES has just received three hundred postoffice box locks. Everybody can soon carry the key to his own mail, as they will be at once attached.

THE snow-fall in the Pahrangat Valley, we learn from parties just in from there, is unprecedented. In the main valley it is said to be from two to three feet deep.

THE success of the late milling operations in Pahrangat district has stimulated anew prospecting in that section, and claim-owners feel very sanguine.

FOUR mules belonging to a man named Olds, who has been engaged hauling fire-wood, were yesterday attacked, almost simultaneously with the epizootic.

THE Salt Lake coach left this morning. An experiment; but showing a praiseworthy determination on the part of the contractors.

THE enterprising proprietor of the Bullionville stage line says he will continue running his vehicles if he has to procure oxen to haul them.

THERE are dispatches at the Western Union Telegraph office for Jasper S. Doan and Geo. B. McLane.

ONE water-cart was running yesterday—only one. What a blessing that we have an abundance of snow.

DISCOVERIES.—A number of mining locations have been made during the last week.
